Cognitec at Security Document World 2010

Dresden/London, February 5th, 2010. Cognitec Systems, - a leader in face recognition technology and systems, will be presenting its latest line of products at the SDW 2010 to be held at the Queen Elizabeth II Conference Centre in London, UK February 8th – 10th, 2010.

Cognitec's presentation includes:

- Image capturing and quality assessment based on ISO criteria for ePassport images: Cognitec's solution features real-time feedback to persons being photographed as well as advanced camera control which ensures the capturing of optimal images. Existing images can be checked as well to make sure that only ISO compliant images will be accepted for document issuance
- Face recognition on handheld devices: Cognitec 1:1 and 1:many face recognition technologies are now available on mobile units enabling users to identify persons independent of network connection
- Face recognition VideoScan software: Person identification through video surveillance cameras using multiple cameras in real time, based on Cognitec's unique face tracker technology
- Face recognition DBScan software: Cognitec's well established technology to identify duplicates in very large image databases
